RETURN DAY

Caused a Big Rush of Civil Suits to the Clerk's Office Yesterday.

515 SUITS FOR THE SPRING TERM.

A Long List of Interesting Suits Filed Yesterday—Damage Suits, Suits on Notes, and Injunction Suits.

The lights in the office of the clerk of the superior court were not put out until after 6 o'clock last night.

It was return day, and Captain George Forbes and Dr. Holliday waited until long after the usual hour for closing to give the lawyers ample opportunity to get in all their suits.

And the lawyers kept bringing them, even after the eleventh hour had passed.

When Captain Forbes turned out the lights before going home, he remarked:

"I don't think the clerk of the spring term of '92. And we had a big batch of them today, sure."

A Receiver Wanted.

It will be remembered that Akers Bros. failed in 1891.

Yesterday a bill for receiver for a portion of their assets was filed by H. & A. James.

At the time of the failure Akers Bros. owed J. H. & A. L. James four notes, and one for $24,000.

Akers Bros. made an assignment, turning over their accounts to Mr. R. L. Callaway, J. H. & A. L. James claim that Akers Bros. intended to secure the payment of notes in their assignment, but the notes have never been paid.

Now, J. H. & A. L. James want a temporary receiver appointed for the funds collected by Mr. R. L. Callaway, and an order issued requiring him and Mr. Ed Calloway to turn over the funds to a hearing to be held. The bill was tendered to Judge Richard H. Clark yesterday morning, and set for March 12th for final hearing of the bill before Judge Marshall J. Clarke.

Sued the Attorneys.

A suit, rather out of the ordinary run of suits, was filed in the clerk's office yesterday.

George W. Henderson is the plaintiff and Messrs. Hoke & Horton Smith are the defendants in the suit.

The plaintiff wants $2,000 damages out of the lawyers. He avers that he was injured by the Florida Southern Railway on January 27th, at Ocala, Fla. His injuries were bad, he says, and have made him a permanent invalid. He came to Atlanta, he says, and stated his case to the attorneys above mentioned, and they agreed to institute suit for him, assuring him that he could not recover damages, but relying on this he did not seek other attorneys, but from time to time held conferences with Mr. Hoke & Horton Smith, the latter always assuring him that his case was a good one. A few days ago he discovered that Messrs. Hoke & Horton Smith had not entered suit for him at all. His case was now barred by the statute of limitations and he could no longer institute a proceeding for damages in the courts. He alleges that he is a physical wreck from the damages received and lost out a vast pile of money for doctors' fees and for nursing. His claim, he alleges, was a good one, and he wants $2,000 damages out of the attorneys.

Thomas F. Ashworth and O'Neill & Frazer are the plaintiff's attorneys.

An Injunction Granted.

J. M. High yesterday filed a bill for injunction to restrain J. F. Fallon & Co. from using a large quantity of bricks and lumber belonging to himself. Mr. High states that he is agent of Mrs. M. F. Grier, employed by J. F. Fallon & Co. to build a house on a lot on Peachtree street, belonging to her, for $9,750. He had a lot of brick and lumber which he contracted to sell to Fallon & Co. for 75 per cent of its market value.

He now wants an injunction to prevent Fallon & Co. from removing this material, alleging that they are insolvent. Judge Clark temporarily granted this injunction yesterday morning, and appointed March 12th for a final hearing of the bill.

Sued the City.

L. H. Hall & Co. yesterday brought suit against the city for $3,000 damages. They allege that their lot at the corner of Elliott and Newton streets was damaged to that extent by grading the property surrounding it. They were represented by Daniel P. Rountree.

He Sues a Lawyer.

Amos Allen yesterday filed a suit to obtain possession of a certain valuable corner lot on Ellis street. The lot is now held by Mr. John W. Cox, the well-known lawyer.

The plaintiff alleges that he gave two mortgages on the property, one for $100 and one for $50. Mr. Cox purchased these mortgages and obtained possession of the lot which is worth over two thousand dollars. Allen is represented by Mr. J. Edward Robinson and Mr. R. J. Jordan.

Miscellaneous Suits.

The Empire Loan and Building Association filed a suit against W. D. Smith for a note of $600.10.

The trustees of the University of the State of Georgia brought suit against E. H. Herring and others for $250 for the use of the Technological school.

The Germania Loan and Banking Company brings suit against W. A. Webster et al. for $1,400.

W. H. C. Underwood, yesterday filed a suit against the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company for $5,000 damages. She was injured in a dummy collision July 23rd last. Her husband, Mr. H. C. Underwood, uses the same company for $5,000 damages. Glenn & Sloan represent the plaintiffs.

Fannie Hunt brought suit against the city of Atlanta for $100 damages. She lost a horse on Williams street on January 23d last. P. F. Smith is the attorney.

Mary L. Lee brought suit against the Atlanta Journal for $100 damages. She claims to have been damaged to that extent by a notice published in the Journal of January 25th last, in which she had left her husband. She is represented by Broyles & Son.

The Lowry Banking Company sues the Southern cotton mills on a note for $400. Fulton Colville is the plaintiff's attorney.

W. W. Kilpatrick sues the Richmond and Danville for $575.00. The account is for goods furnished to an injured employee of the road.

Isaac Porter brought suit against the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company for $15,000 damages. The cash register fell on him while riding from West End into the city, as represented by Culbertson & Hunt.

Mona Trippe brings a peculiar suit against William Carr. He alleges that he loaned Carr a lot to go on Lindsey street. He transferred the title to Carr, and Carr paid him for a loan of $25, for which he was to pay $500 when he would pay back the money. Carr refused to deliver the bond for title, and Trippe brings the suit to recover the property.

J. W. Goldsmith sues the city for $1,000 damages, caused by the closing up of Berean avenue.

The Gate City National Bank brought suit against the Southern Lumber Company on a note for $17,474.70.

Youngblood & Hase brought suit against Austin & Boynton for $100 damages. Glenn & Sloan are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Mr. A. M. Manning, an engineer, brings suit against the Western Railway of Alabama for $500 damages. He was hurt at Nottulsa, Ala. Burton Smith represents him.

Atlanta Traction Company.

EDITORIAL CONSTRUCTION—As we have no newspaper behind us to print an editorial our side of the case of Woodward et al. vs. George Hoppie et al., now pending in Fulton county superior court, as matter of news, we have to ask permission to reply to what appears to be a local editorial in The Evening Journal of yesterday. That editorial is headed "Some Salty Affidavits Against the Manager of the Atlanta Traction Company."

The public will understand that the controversy, out of which the suit grew, is one between ourselves on the one side, and Messrs. Hoppie and Stewart on the other side. Mr. Stewart is a party defendant to the case; and the necessity for making him such a party, is in this way: While the road was being constructed in this way, the Southern Railway Company was paid out of the money which the company owed to the Southern Railway Company. The company was paid out of the money which the company owed to the Southern Railway Company.

Mr. M. Atkinson and others became the owners of one-half of the stock of the company, and in order to satisfy them, it was mutually agreed that we should transfer one share of stock, and the Atlanta Traction Company should become a director in the company and vote that stock until the Southern Railway Company was paid out of the money which the company owed to the Southern Railway Company.

NEARING THE END.

The Medical College Commencement Near at Hand.

NINETY-FIVE IS A VERY GOOD CLASS.

All Along the Line—The Attendance at the Atlanta College Has Been Excellent.

The time for holding the commencement exercises of the Atlanta College has been fixed for the 22nd inst.

The Southern Medical College will hold its commencement on March 4th and 5th, the first day being devoted to the medical department exercises, and the second to the dental department.

The Atlanta College will hold its commencement on March 22d.

The Georgia Eclectic Medical college will hold its closing exercises on February 20th, at the Edgewood Avenue theater, and the Georgia Woman's Medical college will celebrate its commencement exercises, in the present lecture hall, on the 22nd inst.

There are about four hundred and fifty-seven medical students in the different colleges; 288 of these have applied for graduation papers.

The Atlanta.

DeGrove's opera house has been engaged for the holding of the commencement exercises of the Atlanta College, and will take place March 22d.

There are 180 students in attendance to this excellent school and a number about seventy-five will stand examination for graduation.

Dr. Kendrick, proctor of the college, is enthusiastic in his praise of the progress of the school and says that the graduates turned out will compare favorably with those of any school in the country. Financially this has been the most successful year of the school's existence, says Dr. Kendrick, and the attendance has been perfectly satisfactory.

Dr. J. A. S. Chambers, a bright young Georgian and able student, will be the valedictorian.

The commencement oration will be delivered by Judge Van Epps, by special invitation, and will undoubtedly be an interesting and able address.

The Southern.

The Southern Medical college is just closing the most successful year of its existence, with 290 pupils in attendance. Thirty of this number are in the graduating class.

Dr. William P. Nicolson, the dean of the college, says that the character of the progress and efficiency of the students this year have been very satisfactory to the faculty. The closing exercises will be more interesting and show greater advancement than ever before. Of the 100 medical students, about thirty-five have applied for graduation papers, and about fifty-five of the 100 students, they stand high in their studies, and stand a good chance to go through without a single exception.

The delivery of the valedictory has been assigned to Dr. George Brown, of Georgia, one of the brightest and ablest young men in the school. The commencement programme, which is now being made up, will contain many features that will be highly interesting.

The Eclectic.

The Georgia Eclectic Medical college will close its present term on February 20th, with a class of sixty-two students. Thirty of this number are in the graduating class.

Of this term's success, Dr. Delbridge speaks in the highest terms. He says the attendance has been good, and that the character of the classes has been superior to that of any other term since the school's existence. The graduates will be better equipped, by virtue of their superior mental qualities and close study, than those of any former term.

The valedictorian will be Dr. John W. Hunkeler, who is spoken of in the most flattering terms by the faculty and students.

With the Ladies.

The Woman's Medical College of Georgia, will close its present term with appropriate exercises in the lecture hall, corner Alabama street, on the 22nd inst.

The faculty express themselves as entirely satisfied with the success of the year's business. This present year has been a very successful one, especially so when the fact is taken into consideration that this is but the third year of existence of the college.

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative Syrup is a fact which is becoming more and more generally known. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

AN INTERESTING TRIAL.

E. L. Turner is Being Tried for the Robbery of Allen's Mills Postoffice.

E. L. Turner is on trial in the United States court for robbing the postoffice at Allen's Mills.

On May 26, 1880, the postoffice was robbed of $1,000. The robbery was repeated in June, 1880, and on July 3, 1880, it was again repeated. Palpitation of the Heart.

Having a sensation in the stomach, fainting spells, and an awful death-like fear, the sufferer is often thought she should never recover. She was tried and languid all the time, and did not dare to lie down for fear of a fainting spell. She had six different physicians, but none did her any good. One day, reading about Hood's Sarsaparilla, she decided to try it. The fainting spells grew less, her appetite returned, and she was able to sleep well, and has increased her weight.

From 88 to 132 Pounds.

She has not been so well for 25 years; does all her household work easily.

R. D. Haskins, a special officer of Chattahoochee, came to Atlanta last night for Hugh Wright and Lem Ross.

Yesterday afternoon F. H. Woodward, a member of the firm that had been robbed, arrived in the city with a warrant. He identified the two men as being the ones who had been taken from his place.

Haskins came just after Wright had escaped from the station house, and he was sorely disappointed. Ross refused to accompany Woodward without a requisition, and one will be given this morning and one taken to Chattanooga.

Painful, Disfiguring Skin Disease—Every Known Remedy Failed—Cured in One Month by Cuticura Remedies.

Some time the last of last November I had some skin disease in my face. A PASSAGE AT ARMS.

Two Macon Lawyers Get Into a Misunderstanding.

AND THE ARGUMENT BECOMES CUTTING.

Macon, Ga., February 16.—[Special.]—

Messrs. Hope Polhill and Arthur Dasher, two young members of the Macon bar, engaged in a very serious difficulty today, about 11 o'clock.

Polhill is a member of the firm of Giles, Preston & Polhill, and Dasher is of the firm of Dasher & Jones. Polhill was very severely cut in several places by Dasher, and Dasher was knocked down.

From all accounts it seems that Messrs. Dasher and Polhill, who are commissioners in the case of Phillips vs. the East Tennessee road, were taking the testimony of Mr. T. S. Sanford. During the hearing Commissioner Polhill wrote the evidence in a manner unsatisfactory to Mr. Dasher, whereupon the latter insisted upon its being stricken out.

The hearing continued after some words were passed, and when finished Mr. Dasher went out of the room to get a blotter. Mr. Polhill followed him into the hall and, feeling aggrieved at the language used by Mr. Dasher, asked him for an explanation.

The two returned into the room and, the explanation being unsatisfactory, engaged in a war of words, which terminated in Mr. Polhill being struck by Mr. Dasher in the face.

During the difficulty Mr. Dasher drew a small two-bladed penknife and, opening it, made several dashes at his opponent. One cut was made on the left side of Mr. Polhill's nose, extending from the left eye to the forehead, and a slight cut on the forehead, a third was a stab in the right wrist and a fourth a stab on the head.

Mr. Dasher was knocked down, it is said, but was not otherwise hurt.

When the attorneys were separated Polhill was bleeding profusely from the nose. He was taken at once to the office of Dr. Mettauer, and he and Dr. Etheridge sewed up the cuts and sent him to his home. Attorney Dasher returned to his office.

Mr. Dasher, when seen, said: "I deeply deplore this occurrence, for I was trying simply to defend myself. The examination was all right until Mr. Polhill wrote the interrogatories and answers wrong, when I said I wanted it conducted fair and square. I had not intended this as a reflection on Mr. Polhill, for he afterwards agreed with the witness and myself, and struck it out."

"When he came out and asked me for an explanation, I told him it was not the time and place for any difficulty. He insisted upon it that I had insulted him and forced the difficulty upon me. I was simply defending myself against a man who is much my superior physically."

"No, sir, I was not knocked down, and never let him reach me."

Mr. Polhill, when seen by The Constitution man at his home, No. 120 Park place, was propped up in bed, suffering considerably from the wounds, which include a deep cut on the upper lip.

"We differed," said he, "about some evidence while Mr. Sanford was testifying, and from that engaged in a few warm words. Mr. Dasher accused me of being unfair towards the railroad and said he would not see that part of the evidence sent in. I said it would be suppressing evidence and he insisted it would not and from one word to another, we were soon applying names to each other."

"At the close I asked him for an explanation. I had not hit him and had no idea of what he intended to do."

"When he struck me the first blow I noticed a knife in his hand, and then I tried to catch hold of it and get it away from him. He had struck me several times before I knew I was cut. I knocked him down into a corner, and before he could get up some one ran up and separated us."

"I regret the affair, indeed, and it would not have occurred had he not reflected upon me as he did, and then so hastily tried to destroy me. I do not desire to see Mr. Dasher prosecuted."

Mr. Sanford was busy wiping the blood from the carpet when The Constitution man called at his office.

Blood could be seen everywhere, and a perfect trail of blood led from the room to Dr. Mettauer's office.

Mr. Polhill's wounds, while not serious, are very painful. The gash on his upper cheek and left side of his nose was quite deep, and the cuts in the forehead and right wrist will not heal for some time.

WHAT MAHONE SAYS.

He Thinks the Safe Blowers of Arabi Came to Macon on His Train.

Macon, Ga., February 16.—[Special.]—The Constitution today contained the particulars of the safe blowing at Arabi Sunday night. Conductor Mahone was in charge of the train that passed Arabi at an early hour yesterday morning, arriving at Macon at 7 o'clock. The train stopped at the first station above Arabi a few minutes, and when Mr. Mahone went through the train he found two new passengers. Both were splashed with mud, and one had his face and clothes literally covered with it. The conductor thought it was blood at the time, and held his lantern up to the man's face to see. After joking him about it he passed on, and thought nothing more of the matter until he read in THE CONSTITUTION about the safe blowing at Arabi. He is now certain that the two muddy passengers who came with him are the safe blowers.

Another Lyncher in Jail.

CAMILLA, Ga., February 16.—[Special.]—Last night Deputy Sheriff James Jones and James Reynolds arrested near Meigs Barney White. White is one of the lynchers of old man Larkin Nix, and for whose arrest the governor has offered a reward of $300. White, when found, was in the woods, where it is supposed he has been spending most of his time since the killing of Nix. He is now in jail, and will wait for the March supreme court before he will have a trial.

The Boy Is Lost.

AUGUSTA, Ga., February 16.—[Special.]—Mr. C. M. Burgess, assisted by the police, is searching the city for Hampton, his thirteen-year-old orphan brother, who has been missing since sunrise yesterday morning, when he left home to go to work in the Enterprise mill. As Hampton had to cross the railroad tracks to get to the mill, it is supposed he fell into the canal and was drowned.

Between the Bumpers.

MILLEN, Ga., February 16.—[Special.]—Conductor J. C. McLaughlin, of the down Savannah freight, while coupling cars here this evening, was seriously injured by the bumper of a passenger train between the cars. Luckily, the engineer stopped in time to prevent his being run over, but he fell between the wheels. Fortunately, Dr. E. A. Perkins, the company's physician, was here at the time, and is rendering the sufferer all the aid in his power.

Solicitor Brantley Will Not Run.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., February 16.—[Special.]—An error in the transmission of a telegram made The Constitution say that W. G. Brantley would be a candidate for congress from his district. Mr. Brantley has no intention of running.

ONE NEGRO'S FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The conflict between the Harrison administration and the negro politicians has opened up in full blast.

Mr. Harrison, it seems, does not want to be nominated by negro delegates, but, notwithstanding this, some Georgia negroes in the fact of the president's pleasure, insist on contributing their quota to his nomination. This, however, not only does not please Mr. Harrison, but for they do not deny that his recent message has greatly estranged them from the president.

They are not going to surrender their chance at the republican campaign bar without a struggle. Jackson McHenry, the well-known Atlanta politician, has in the fact of the president's pleasure, insisted on contributing their quota to his nomination. This, however, not only does not please Mr. Harrison, but for they do not deny that his recent message has greatly estranged them from the president.

The announcement was in circular form and copies of it were circulating freely around the federal building yesterday. Mr. McHenry, who is a republican, intends to strongly contest for a place in this congressional district delegation to the national republican convention against the vigorous protests of the white republican bosses. This will, of course, precipitate war to the knife between the brothers in black, and the local white autocrats of the republican party.

McHenry's address is a detailed review of his service for the party, a strong self-endorsement and many reasons why he should be named as a delegate. It closes with this paragraph: "I have told the things that are God's, and to clear the things that are Caesar's."

How this refers to Jackson isn't altogether plain.

You can escape just about one half the pain that flesh is heir to, by being ready for them. When you feel dull, languid, out of sorts generally, then you may know that some of them are coming. Don't let them get any further. Brace the system up with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That prevents as well as cures. It invigorates the liver and kidneys, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses the appetite, improves digestion, and restores health and vigor.

For all diseases caused by liver or impure blood—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, most stubborn Skin, Scalp and Scrofulous affections, the "Discovery" is the only remedy. It is a certain and effective that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

It is not only the best, but it's the cheapest blood-purifier sold, no matter how many doses are offered for a dollar.

With this, you pay only for the good you get.

BRONCHITIS IS CAUSED BY A COLD which settles in and inflames the air tubes leading to the lungs. It is the beginning of Radam's Microbe Killer Cures All Diseases.

Because it kills the Microbes which start the fermentation and that is the only cause of all diseases. This is the only remedy that stops fermentation in the human body and does not kill, hence it must cure. No other remedy can do that. Radam's Microbe Killer received the verdict from the Austin District Court that it cures, hence it can be no humbug. Send 2-cent stamp for 48-page circular and 10-cent Microbe Killer, which shows what disease is and what the remedy must be, and do, to cure it. Read it, circulate it, and you will bless the discoverer for saving your life. Address

MARRIED LIFE

Has Grown Monotonous, and Marriage Is a Failure

IN THE MANY CASES QUOTED BELOW.

Mrs. Walter R. Dale Wants to Be Separated from Her Ronged Husband—A Woman Ravens Would Feed.

"Is marriage a failure?" is still a question of moment.

Here are some instances which answer the mooted question in the affirmative. These speak from a rich and varied experience.

The first case is the notable one of Rev. Walter Dale.

His Atlanta wife, who believed to be wife No. 2, yesterday filed a suit for total divorce from this strange matrimonial genius.

Her petition for a divorce once more brings this sensational case—the details of which are familiar to the public—to the fore.

The bill for divorce was signed before Judge Clarke yesterday morning and he issued a special order for an officer to go to the jail to take the prisoner. Hall & Hammond are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Three Other Cases.

The union of Randall Davis and Lillian Davis affords the first illustration. This happy event occurred less than a month ago, on January 21st, but in that short time Randall, having failed to find the bliss he sought, now seeks to break his matrimonial bonds. Mr. Morris Fiske is his attorney.

The case of E. L. Staples and Leonora Staples affords another argument against the holy estate. This couple was married but a few years, but the experiment altogether unsuccessful. E. L. Staples institutes a suit for divorce, alleging adultery on the part of his wife. W. A. James is his attorney.

Here's a war-time marriage which, after all these years, the bride wants to break. Dennis Baker returned from the war to the girl he left behind him, and married her in 1904. They lived happily together until 1888, when he deserted her. She wants a total divorce. J. W. Austin brings the suit.

The Ravens Wouldn't Feed Her.

Here's a suit that must have made the angels weep.

Mary Norton avers that she has for many years been the faithful wife of Judge Norton, but he has frequently indulged in "the infatuation, but nevertheless, pastime of pulling her hair, not for the purpose of increasing her aesthetic appearance, but to gratify his barbarous and cruel propensities."

Down a little further she says: "He also left petitioner to be fed by the ravens, which never came, and now that spring has come after the winter of discontent she wants a divorce from her depraved and barbarous lord."

Mr. J. W. Austin drew up the papers.

Others Still.

Henry Nelms wants a legal separation from Lillian Nelms. He alleges that he was married to her in 1887.

Miss Eva Dennis and Alex Dennis were matrimonial partners from November, 1881, to August, 1886.

The former now wants to cancel the engagement, on account of cruel treatment and desertion. Carter & Barnes are her attorneys.

Here's another peculiar application for a legal separation. George W. Morgan states that he was married to Fannie Morgan for several years. He had a son before that marriage, which son owns a lot in Atlanta.

That lot became to be the one thing needful to complete Mrs. Morgan's happiness soon after their marriage. She worked every possible scheme to get possession of that lot. She tried to get it conveyed to her legally. Failing in all her plans she made things unpleasant generally, and has assaulted the petitioner frequently. Robert L. Rogers is the plaintiff's attorney.

HE WALKED OUT

Of the City Prison in the Middle of the Day.

The boldest and most mysterious escape ever made from the police station was effected yesterday.

There is no securer place for criminals in the state, yet at the busiest time of the day the most carefully guarded and anxiously watched prisoner got away.

That was Hugh Wright, who was waiting transfer to Chattanooga to answer to the charge of burglary.

Escapes from the station house are remarkably rare, and there are exceedingly few on record. Not one of these has ever been accomplished except by flying away bars in the dead of night.

That yesterday was differently effected and stands as a precedent as police headquarters.

Every day at 12 o'clock the city officers are taken out of the cells and carried upstairs to await trial. At that time "Uncle Jim" Parham catches them together in the corridor of the prison, and as soon as all the remaining prisoners are carefully locked in, the defendants in the recorder's court are taken out.

There was this regular routine yesterday. Wright knew it and availed himself of the opportunity to get away.

The man was locked in cell No. 1 night before last.

It is one of the safest cells in the lockup and one used almost exclusively for state criminals.

In addition to that, the continual number of visits paid by the turnkey with parties to be locked up causes anything out of the way to be easily detected.

There is a negro guard who always remains in the short corridor.

Under these circumstances the least apprehension is of the safety of the prisoners, and especially so during the day. Yesterday afternoon, just after 2 o'clock, "Uncle Jim" took out the ones he wanted, being assisted in this by Mr. Brooks, the turnkey, who was on duty at that time.

The Obstacles He Overcame.

Outside of the lockup in the roll call room a large number of officers and citizens are ways collected at that time, and it would seem the height of daring for any one who had worked his way that far to pass through the roll call room safely. It is especially so with Hugh Wright, whom every one about police headquarters knows.

Yet during the slight confusion that prevails when the city officers are taken away the man made good his escape. How he did it no one knows. He was in the lockup at 2 o'clock, and a half hour later he was found standing in the street. To accomplish this it was necessary for him to break through his cell—and there is no evidence how that feat was worked—then get out of the corridor, after that through the strong, heavy outside door, and finally to pass the crowd in the roll call room and make his way safely through the streets.

But Hugh Wright did it, and at the busiest hour of the entire twenty-four at the station house, when the lockup and all quarters are most closely watched.

The discovery of his escape created a sensation. All the officers were quietly notified to keep on the lookout for him. The evening watch scoured the city for the man, but without avail.

All the outgoing trains are being carefully watched, and if Wright leaves the city he will go in a manner that is determined by which he regained his liberty from prison bars.

Chief Connolly is making a vigorous investigation into the affair, and is determined to trace the responsibility of the escape to the bottom.

A New Book.

Among the many new books that have recently been printed by the Constitution job office none will prove more of interest and value to its readers than "Catching the Culpable," by Dr. H. H. Catchings, of this city.

This book contains the cream of the dental literature of the last year, admirably arranged. The type is new and clear, the paper elegant, the illustrations, and appropriate illustrations are scattered throughout the two hundred and forty pages of contents. The book has a large sale throughout the country and across the water.

Colonel Stahlman was elected commissioner, and the appointment of an assistant commissioner was left to him.

The committee on rules was out a long time, and when it came in the report was discussed at length.

A new form of contract was drafted. It has to do with the roads and it is signed by roads not now in the association. They become members of the association and the roads south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi will come in.

At 7 o'clock the association adjourned to the Chamber of Commerce building, where it was expected in the assistant commissionership before that time, and Colonel Slaughter, it is understood, will remain. Most of the visiting railroad men remained in Atlanta last night. They will leave this morning.

Four hundred thousand dollars of the state's money has just been divided among the widows of confederate soldiers from Georgia killed during the war. Now $200,000 is to be divided among those old soldiers who have been injured by wounds which rendered them unable to do the work of the confederacy.

Captain Tip Harrison, of the executive department, will soon begin to get the checks in shape, and on the 1st of March he will begin to pay the pensioners. The money will be paid according to the following specified rules:

For total loss of one eye, $30.
For total loss of hearing, $20.
For loss of all of a foot or leg, $100.
For loss of all of a hand or arm, $100.
For loss of both hands or both arms, $150.

Two Rewards Offered.

Governor Northern offered two rewards yesterday.

One was for the unknown murderer of Eugene Love, who was killed by some unknown party recently while serving as a volunteer for a wholesale fertilizer company in the city of Savannah. Two hundred dollars is the reward offered for the governor.

Allen Powell, who is charged with killing Rosa Powell in 1886, in Savannah, is still at large. A reward after reward has been offered for his capture, but of no avail. It is said that Powell is known to be running loose in Florida, and Governor Northern was asked to offer a reward again for his capture.

Bill Is a Free Man.

E. B. Bell, convicted by the superior court of Hall county and sentenced to the chain gang, was pardoned by the governor yesterday.

It was shown in his behalf that certain mitigating circumstances have come to light since the trial, under the light of which he may be an innocent man. The judge of the court who sentenced him signed the petition for clemency, which, with other evidence, induced Governor Northern to pardon him.

The Governor of South Carolina.

Everybody knows what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina—let it pass.

But few know that the governor of South Carolina has not been as obliging to the governor of Georgia lately as he was to the governor of North Carolina, perhaps, when you later made his famous and suggestive speech.

More than twenty days ago Governor Northern sent requisition papers to Governor Tillman for Lewis A. Mellichamp, who is charged by the Bradley-Fertilizer Company, of Augusta, with securing goods fraudulently. He procured $3,500 worth of fertilizers on credit from the firm, and nothing has been heard from him. He is wanted for criminal prosecution in this state.

But, Governor Northern's requisition has been refused by Governor Tillman. Nothing has been heard from him officially in explanation of his refusal.

Commissioner Bradwell on the Run.

Commissioner S. D. Bradwell is on the go. He receives more invitations to go around through the state making speeches on the school questions of the day than he can accept. He is expected to leave for the state capital by the Bradley-Fertilizer Company, to be gained by studying the operation of the state school system in this way, but he fears that his office work will prevent him from going to all the places at which he is invited to speak.

The agencies of child labor are permanently cured by Salvation Oil. Price 25 cts. a bottle. Used properly it never disappoints anybody. We refer to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

At Concordia Hall.

The other supper and hop to be given on Wednesday, February 17th, under the auspices of the Ladies Benevolent Society, promises to be the most enjoyable affair. Music will be furnished by Wurm's superb band. All are invited to attend. Admission 50 cents.

Never fail to cure sick headache, often the very first dose. This is what is said by all who try Carter's Little Liver Pills.

This celebrated book has been out of print up to three years ago, and what few copies could be obtained sold readily for $10 and $15 per copy, even more, so great was the anxiety of the public to possess a copy of this great work, and it was then republished as a subscription book and sold at $2 per copy until an immense edition was exhausted.

The publishers then determined to print a paper edition, knowing that there could be several hundred thousand copies more sold at this popular price than in the $2 edition. It has been placed at the remarkably low price of 75 cents, and will be sent for 50 cents postpaid to any address.
